

Winter landscape

From The Duxbury Mariner Feb. 17, 1999

The King Caesar House is illuminated by a fresh blanket of snow.

Phil Fontaine, known for his miniature art, has created a beautifully detailed mini-Duxbury on display to the public outside the Winsor House.

Light, snow and a picturesque community provide the perfect landscape for photographers. Here, a shimmering sun is deceptive to those who are unaware of the true bitter cold that can come with a clear winter sky over Duxbury.
